

Use Gauss' law to compute the electric field generated by an infinite line of charge placed on the  $z$ -axis with constant charge density  $\rho$ . (I started this in class and explained the main ideas; I'd like you to work out the details).