

Math 406-History of Calculus- Homework 2

Show that for every disc  $D$  one can find regular polygons  $Q_n$  containing the disc such that  $a(Q_n) - a(D)$  becomes arbitrary small. Hint compare with inscribed polygons and use that the corresponding areas there become small. This problem counts for two!

19 page 22

20 page 23